Candidates grilled in lively debate

The four candidates vying for the right to represent Victoria - Haliburton at Queen's Park following the September 10 election were treated to a warm grilling as more than 150 people gathered at the Minden

Community Centre last Thursday for an all-candidates meeting. Moderator Ray Cox had his hands full in maintaining order as the two leading hopefuls, Art Ward (PC) and John Eakins (Lib.) tried to sway from the established format to debate specific issues. For the most part, the local election campaign has provided little confrontation among the candidates. However, with the clock ticking down to election day, the pot is beginning to simmer.

Last Wednesday's radio call-in show sponsored by Lindsay's CKLY Radio, was the first sign of lively debate among the candidates. And, after a bit of a warm up during The Times debate Thursday, the full-house audience saw more of the same.

Northern schools

The so-called northern school issue, which, until recently, has been the leading local issue in the campaign, and the one thorn in incumbent candidate John Eakins' side, was again spotlighted Thursday.

Eakins held firm in his stand that the planned closure of the five schools in the northern part of Victoria County is the responsibility of the school board. He said the province's role is to ensure that the established guidelines have been met.

Family Coalition candidate Diane Roblin-Lee speaks at the Minden debate September 3. Over a hundred and fifty people turned out at the community centre to hear Roblin-Lee, and the other three candidates. Seated (l-r) are Art Ward (P.C.), John Eakins (Liberal) and Ivan Moore (N.D.P.)

Survey shows weaknesses in fire protection services

Anson, Hindon and Minden Township Council will be taking a hard look at its fire protection services in the weeks ahead after receiving the results of a Fire Underwriters' Survey.

"We'll have to sit down and take a hard look," Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said of the study when contacted last week. Since some of the recommendations resulting from the survey carry a high price tag, council will have to decide whether the costs will be justified.

The survey, which was conducted over a year ago and returned to council August 10, contains three main recommendations. These are to upgrade the water distribution systems in areas of weakness, to consider buying an additional triple combination pumper, and to increase the frequency of fire inspections.

Water supply

The survey indicates that the township's water supply and distribution systems are well maintained and are considered adequate for fire protection purposes. However, it also says that the system's ability to provide "adequate flows to some areas of the community of Minden may be deficient." The locations identified are McLeod St. at McPherson St., Prentice St. at Minden Park St., and Newcastle St. at Milne St.

Boat ramp offered

Lutterworth Township Council members will be doing a site inspection sometime this week before they decide if they are willing to accept the gift of a boat ramp on the west side of Gull Lake.

Robert Bishop, who is a part owner of the boat ramp, approached council Tuesday afternoon requesting the township accept the property. He said there are many residents on the lake with large boats, and he is not aware of any access points on the west side.

If the township accepts the property and fixes it up for use as a ramp, "it will be of great advantage to the residents on that side of the lake," said Bishop.

Although Bishop said he received an estimate of $600 to upgrade the ramp, Councillor Al Stott was not in favour of accepting the gift, saying it would be costly to upgrade because it is not on good terrain.

Stott said that council considered this property a number of years ago, but decided against it. "We turned it down as a hazard," said Stott. "Neighbours objected strenuously at one time," he added.

Bishop told council that the ramp has a good base. He said if the present owners pay the $600 to finish it off, they will put a fence up around it and no one else will be allowed to use it.

The ramp is located at the end of a road called "Rackety Trail." It was initially owned jointly by the 55 property owners in the subdivision. However, the number of joint owners has fallen to 28 over the years, and Bishop says they are all willing to deed it over to the township.

Acting Reeve Carol Puffer said the proposal has some merit. She said a site inspection will be called in the next few days, and the Roads Superintendent will also be asked to estimate the cost of upgrading.

Abortion made election issue

The prospect of public funding of abortions was the leading issue in terms of questions from the floor during Thursday's all-candidates meeting at the Minden Recreation Centre.

Even the hotly-contested northern schools issue was forced to take a back seat as candidates were asked question after question on the abortion issue.

This emotional issue also produced a full spectrum of responses from the four candidates. NDP candidate Ivan Moore came out in favour of pro-choice. Liberal candidate John Eakins said he is personally opposed. Conservative candidate Art Ward said he has confidence in the present system. And Family Coalition candidate Diane Roblin-Lee steadfastly opposed any funding.

"Women have the right to make their own decisions when faced with an unexpected pregnancy," said Moore. He said arbitrary restrictions should not be allowed to prevent those in need from obtaining an abortion.

While Eakins said he does not personally support legislation that provides OHIP coverage for legal abortions in hospitals, he said he is only one voice in Parliament. Under the standing laws, Ontario residents are entitled to abortions in approved clinics and OHIP applies, he said.

On this issue, Ward said he has full confidence in the doctors and laymen who form the committees. He added that there should be a transportation allowance for those who do not have access to the hospitals with proper committees in place. He feels that sex education

Shooting can continue

The Haliburton County Marksman Club will be allowed to continue using the sandpit as a shooting range although the property is not presently zoned for that use, Lutterworth Township Council decided at its meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Representing the Marksman Club, Mr. Bullerdick and Glynne Lewis approached council for permission to build a storage facility on the property, which is leased from the township. At the same time, they noted that the zoning bylaw has still not been amended to permit shooting on the range.

Acting Reeve Carol Puffer agreed the present bylaw does not allow for shooting at the range. She suggested that an amendment be made, and the club cover the costs involved.

Lewis agreed to pay the estimated $500 for the zoning amendment and asked if the club could continue to use the range until the amendment can be finalized. Council agreed to this request.

Council also agreed to permit the construction of the storage building, although this will not be allowed until the zoning amendment is through. Lewis said the building will be a 20-square-foot steel facility. He said it will be used for storage of targets and other equipment. He assured council that no ammunition or guns would be kept there.

Lewis also noted that if the township is ever interested in selling the property, the club would be very interested in purchasing it. He said an agreement could be worked out that would allow the township to continue to draw sand from the pit.

Lutterworth requires ministry assurance

Lutterworth Township Council will be withholding its approval for construction of two retaining walls by property owners on Gull River and Moore Lake until the Ministry of Natural Resources ensures that no new railway ties are used in the walls.

In dealing with the proposals at last Tuesday's meeting, for the retaining walls, Councillor Elizabeth Wright noted that creosote can leak from the railway ties and pollute the lake. After some discussion on the matter, township clerk Jeune Simpson phoned the ministry to find out what guidelines are in place.

She told council that the ministry allows for the use of old ties only. However, Councillor Al Stott was not convinced that the ministry had ensured that this would be the case.

Wright said council's approval should be postponed to the next meeting and the property owners should be required to guarantee they will be using only used ties and there will be no creosote bleeding.

Stott agreed that approval should be held up, but insisted it is the ministry's responsibility to ensure that only used ties are utilized. "It's not our job," he said. "We should hold it up and insist that the ministry does its job."

Beaver control a costly venture

Beavers can be a costly nuisance and their control should be a provincial matter, Lutterworth Township Council decided at last Tuesday's meeting.

Endorsing a petition from Montague Township, Councillor Al Stott said the cost of controlling beavers in Lutterworth Township last year was about $4,000. The petition recommends that the provincial government take over the responsibility for controlling beavers.

Councillor Elizabeth Wright agreed wholeheartedly in the petition. "I think the province should have to take the flack," she said. "It's too easy to shove this off on little municipalities."

Free vote

Others matters discussed at the September 1 Lutterworth Council meeting are as follows:

A request from the Township of Tilbury West for support of a resolution calling for more free voting opportunities for federal and provincial government members was denied by council.

Councillor Elizabeth Wright called it a "ridiculous resolution." Others suggested that one of the members on Tilbury council likely has an axe to grind.

Bylaw passed

A bylaw to close up the 66-foot unopened original shoreline road allowance fronting Part of Lot 27, Concession 3, on the Gull River passed through three readings. There was no discussion on this bylaw.

Humphrey Road

Lutterworth Council will not be reversing its decision on where the township's portion of Humphrey Road comes to an end.

In response to letters from Bishop and Wilson, and Warner Cork and Seigel, Councillor Al Stott said it is evident that council made a mistake in its determination of what portion of the road is the township's responsibility. "The proof is in the pudding," he said. "We were wrong."

However, Councillor Elizabeth Wright disagreed with Stott's interpretation of what was said in the letters. Acting Reeve Carol Puffer said there has been no further information to refute council's earlier decision on the matter.

Stott called for a motion to reverse the earlier decision, but no one would second it. The decision made in July was passed in a split vote, with Stott and Reeve Bill Valentine in opposition.

Boat house

Lutterworth Council will be reopening a two-year old file on a boat house on David Lake to see if they would be interested in making a deal with the property owner.

Mr. Santacono, who owns the boat house, said he had put his property up for sale, but no one wants to buy it until some kind of an agreement can be reached with the township. Two years ago, when he first came to council, he said Councillor Al Stott told him that the boat house had to be moved so that the road could be widened.

Stott said the council of the day had suggested a trade-off for the boat house. He said council had offered to pull down the boat house and build a new one provided Santacono gave certain rights and privileges to the township.

Council decided to put the matter over to the next meeting to give themselves time to go over the file and refresh their memories on the issue.

August was another good summer month, only problem was a bit too dry. There were 12 days with rain but this was mostly only light showers. Even so there was only half an inch less than last August. (1.7 in - 2.2 in.)

Trivia: Atlantic hurricane names for 1987: Arlene, Bret, Cindy, Dennis, Emily, Floyd, Gert, Harvey, Irene, Jose, Katrina, Lenny, Maria, Nate. Names go on through to Wilma, let's hope even this many are not needed. In North America the hurricane season lasts from July to November. The majority occur in September and October. Very few hit Ontario, but we do feel the side effects of some of them.

Gypsy moth eggs found

For the first time ever, the Ministry of Natural Resources has discovered gypsy moth egg masses in Haliburton County, and it is expected that the insect's numbers will grow rapidly across the county over the next two or three years.

While the ministry has been well aware that the gypsy moth was making its way toward Haliburton, the discovery of these egg masses is the first concrete evidence that they are reproducing here. Several of the caterpillars were found earlier in the summer and some male moths were identified in August.

Since infestations of the gypsy moth have been plaguing forests just outside the county's boundaries for a number of years, their spread into Haliburton was inevitable. In preparation for this event, employees of the forestry branch of the Minden MNR have been made aware of what steps are being taken to control populations in other areas. In addition, members of county council were invited to tour of the Irvine Lake air strip in June, where an elaborate spray program is being carried out.

Aerial surveys and mapping of defoliation caused by insects this summer has been completed. And while it shows that almost every part of the district has been affected by the infestation of the forest tent caterpillar, no gypsy moth defoliation was detected. It is expected that the tent caterpillar infestation will be here for a few more years before the population collapses. And over the same period, it is expected that the gypsy moth population will be climbing.

Unlike the tent caterpillar, which has a cyclical pattern to its population, the gypsy moth needs human intervention to keep its growth in check.

In areas of high infestation, the ministry has developed spray programs using biological insecticides. However, there is no real hope of wiping out the gypsy moth. The spray is designed to control populations and protect prime forest areas.

Residents, cottagers and visitors to the Haliburton area can help in slowing the progress here by destroying egg masses. An egg mass is relatively flattened and oval, measuring an inch to an inch and a half at its widest point. It is almost covered with buff covered hairs from the female's abdomen, giving it the appearance of small pieces of chamois or sponge.

The egg masses are usually found close to the ground on tree trunks, the underside of branches, under loose bark, in tree cavities and on rocks. They also cling to things under or near trees, such as outdoor furniture, boats, trailers, vehicles, toys, camping equipment or piles of wood.

An effective way to kill the eggs is to soak the mass with several drops of varsol.

For more information contact the Minden MNR.

Abortion an emotional issue

in the high schools will eliminate many of the problems.

Despite contentions that abortion is not the only issue of the FCP, which is an offshoot of the Pro-life party, it was plain to see it is an issue of great concern to Lee. There would be far fewer abortions if the "womb was transparent," Lee responded. This was greeted with rousing applause from one corner of the hall, where a group of her supporters were seated.

Lee was critical of the Liberal government for keeping its proposals on abortion "under cover" until after the election. She said the Liberal proposal calls for abortion clinics to be set up in every major centre of the province.

After reeling off a list of statistics on the number of abortions being performed, she asked the question, "How many more do we want?"

Water supply sufficient

Reeve Nesbitt downplays the survey's information regarding the water supply. He notes that this was the driest summer in memory and only once did the water supply run low. The township is also now in the process of negotiating an additional well.

Pumper needed

Regarding the need for an additional pumper, Nesbitt says council will have to look at the overall fire protection plan to see if the pumper is in fact needed. He said the township will have to consider whether it is willing to provide its services to other townships in assessing the need.

The survey says: "In view of the overall protection needs of the township, it is recommended that an additional triple combination pumper with a minimum pumping capacity of 4,000 litres per minute be obtained and placed in service."

Additional equipment

The survey also recommends the purchase of other basic equipment to supplement the fire department's present equipment supply. This includes additional breathing apparatus, more combination nozzles, a portable smoke ejector, power cable, and salvage equipment.

The need for some of this equipment has been addressed in the current budget, and more will be incorporated into the 1988 budget.

Fire Chief Don Booth is commended in the survey report for the fire prevention program now in place. However, it recommends that inspections of the various buildings in the township should be carried out at least twice each year.

The survey report also lauds the fire department's staff for being "well organized and under competent supervision." The only recommendation in this regard is that records should be kept of the training given to each firefighter. This is to ensure that all firefighters are trained in all aspects of firefighting each year.

To ensure proper communications at all times, the base radio at the fire hall should be supplied with its own standby power system, the report also suggests.

Vote

For the past few weeks, candidates and campaign workers have been pounding the pavement in an effort to win our votes in this Thursday's provincial election. It must be terribly discouraging for these people when they realized that almost half of those they have made an effort to contact will not even bother going to the polls.

Traditionally, about 60 per cent of all eligible voters exercise their right to vote in elections. The other 40 per cent sit back and gripe about politicians and politics in general.

Those 60 per cent who show an interest in the future of their communities and their province by casting a vote for one of the candidates deserve much credit. They are participating in a democratic process that is envied by residents of other, less fortunate countries.

One ballot dropped into a box with thousands of others may seem insignificant. However, that single slip of paper is our way of ensuring our voices are heard.

The right to vote should be cherished. Let's get out to the voting stations this Thursday and show that the people in Victoria - Haliburton have a genuine interest in the welfare of our communities.

Vertical lines.

SOS takes offence to claims

Editor:

Noni Campbell, chairman of the Victoria County Board of Education has been extremely busy making statements to the press lately.

I personally take great offence to a couple of them in particular.

Statement Number One:

Opponents of the new schools "actually think Victoria County should stand still for all time," she says. "They're not capable of understanding future growth for their kids or their county."

Many educational experts have written extensively on the advantages of small community schools. Does Mrs. Campbell include these people along with the parents and ratepayers as being "not capable of understanding"? Such arrogance should not go unchallenged!

Mrs. Campbell was one of those people "not capable of understanding" during her bid to be elected to the V.C.B.E. for a second term of office commencing Nov.

12th, 1985. She stated as her platform the following: "I don't want to see the two centralized schools in place of Coboconk, Norland, Kinmount, Burnt River and Kirkfield Schools and I think the upcoming election is the perfect time for the people to let their feelings be

Some things never change

by Arthur Black

It was a familiar if somewhat pathetic little drama: lonely businessman - in this case a West German - in a strange city - in this case Beijing - finds himself with time on his hands and a couple of drinks under his belt staring into a barroom mirror. He locks eyes with a winsome and unattached woman, three barstools down. Small talk leads to a candlelight-and-wine dinner which leads to a tour of the nightspots which leads to some close dancing and the inevitable question - would she come back with him to his hotel room? She would.

It's a drearily commonplace scene that's replayed a thousand times a day in hotel rooms from Toronto to Timbuktu and from London, Ont. to London, Eng.

But not in China, as our West German Lothario found out. His cosy little Oriental dalliance instantly became a Menage a Troop as a squad of Chinese policemen burst through the hotel room door and arrested the couple on the spot.

In China, you see, sex between unmarried people is illegal. Not "frowned on", not "discouraged" - illegal. The Chinese woman was shipped off to a rural work camp for 're-education'. The West German businessman was plunked on the next available Lufthansa flight bound for Der Vaterland.

Wondering no doubt, exactly how he was going to explain all this in his sales report.

So much for illicit sex in China, circa 1987. The irony is, the same newspaper that carried that story last week, also had a story about sex in the Middle East, circa 400 AD.

Seems a team of archeologists from 15 Canadian and American Universities have been poking around in the rubble of city called Ashkelon, in Israel. Now people have lived on the site of Ashkelon for at least the last nine thousand years, and the archeologists knew that even in the time of the Caesars, Ashkelon enjoyed a reputation as a kind of early Las Vegas. For centuries, generation after generation of Egyptians, Assyrians, Persians and Greeks had flocked to its sandy beaches for their annual R and R. But even armed with that knowledge the archeologists were not prepared for what they unearthed earlier this month.

What they found was ... well, a hot tub, really. A sunken marble bath about the size and shape of a modern Jacuzzi, with enough room to accommodate perhaps a half a dozen Roman Empire yuppies. It even featured heart-shaped pillars that formed a kind of canopy over the tub.

The archeologists speculate that the pillars served to contain the heat, creating the "hot tub" effect. They also speculate that the heart motif was no accident. What they have uncovered, say the archeologists, is the remains of a 1500 year old brothel.

What makes them think so? Well, the art work for one thing. Some of the oil lamps used to light the place show decidedly erotic vignettes (depictions of positions one through 29). "This kind of art isn't unusual for the time period," says Douglass Esse, associate director of the excavation, "but the quantity of it certainly is."

Can you imagine standing over the remains of a Byzantine brothel in the middle of a town which operated under the motto "Anything Goes" for a couple of millenia? It must feel especially weird to stand there knowing that just a couple of countries away a senile maniac named Khomeini presides over a country in which women are stoned and even thrown into jail for not wearing a veil over their face.

Sexual mores shift with the times and the circumstances. Back at the turn of the century, when Toronto the Good was a deadly dull graveyard of bluestocking, purse-lipped Puritanism, the tiny town of Dawson in the Yukon was awash with hookers and houses of ill repute. (Hogtown had them too of course - it was just more hypocritical about it.)

Pre-Castro Havana was the Sodom and Gomorra of the Western Hemisphere. Today it's more like ... well, Toronto circa 1900.

The archeologists have one puzzle piece they haven't been able to figure out at the Ashkelon dig. It's the remains of a sign that welcomed visitors to the brothel. It reads, in ancient Greek, "ENTER IN, ENJOY AND..." And "what", we'll probably never know. The rest of the sign is unreadable, having fallen victim to 15 centuries of decay and decomposition.

It's fun to speculate, though. And what? And Wipe Your Feet? And Just Say Charge It? And Leave The Driving To Us?

It's not hard to figure out how the sign would read if it hung over a hotel in modern day Beijing however.

ENTER IN, ENJOY AND...

SPREAD 'EM, SUCKER - YOU'RE UNDER ARREST.

What do you think about...

Our right to vote

by Bill Kulas

As I write this article we are but a few short days away from a provincial election. Who are you going to vote for? The Conservative Party, the Liberal Party, the New Democratic Party or for the Family Coalition Party.

Rather than vote for a particular party maybe you are one of many in our area who votes for the candidate rather than for the party. Therefore you may be casting your vote for Art Ward, John Eakins, Ivan Moore or maybe Diane Roblin-Lee.

Many people over the past few years, due possibly in part to the efforts of the media, have become fed up with politics and politicians. A sense of apathy has been entrenched amongst once active members of the electorate. Mud-slinging, name calling and out-and-out gross disrespect for our democratic process by many MPs and MPPs has left a bad impression among a great many Canadians toward the political process.

Is the answer to the problem not caring and not voting just because you think what the heck is the use! That's an easy and senseless way out of a situation that requires voting Canadians to be responsible citizens and to make more of an effort to exercise their right to vote. There are those in various countries around the world who are fighting and even dying so that their people may obtain the right to vote and express their views and opinions in a free and democratic society.

I've run into many people over the years who just won't vote and yet they are quite open in criticizing a government for: poor roads; mismanagement of funds; not doing enough to clean up the environment; overpaying civil servants; taxing the working man to death; passing senseless laws and bills and the list is almost endless.

The way I look at it, if you don't get involved and most certainly if you don't vote, then you don't have a leg to stand on and have absolutely no business to criticize.

Think about it.

Now, consider the parties, consider the candidates, consider the issues, consider the future in store for yourself, your loved ones and for your country.

After you've done all this go out and vote and count yourself in!

Follow the rainbow.

Unions help workers

Editor:

In answer to R. N. McBride re: unions. You cannot blame all the economic troubles of the world on unions.

If it were not for the unions we would still be working 12 hour days 6 or 7 days a week at starvation wages with no medical or pension plans, being replaced by someone from a third world country who would take your job for less money and you would have no recourse to prevent it.

Industry itself will admit that a satisfied union worker is far more productive than an unsatisfied one. They also tend to stay with their respective companies longer and turn out better quality products.

I have been a union worker all my life and am now retired after 40 years with both the C.P.R. and Kimberly-Clark Pulp and Paper Co. During that time I do not think that any of our demands were outrageous, and in my 37 years at Kimberly-Clark we had many improvements but never had a strike.

Canada World Youth

Sumaira Shakeel and Bridgette Dion are this week's featured Canada World Youth participants. While staying in the county, they are living with Vic and Vicki Ross on Eagle Lake. Sumaira and Brigitte are among the 14 CWY participants from Pakistan and parts of Canada who arrived in Haliburton in July for the first half of a seven-month exchange.

Bridgette Dion

Hi. My name is Bridgette Dion and I am from Saint John, New Brunswick. I am a Canada World Youth Participant and am staying in Eagle Lake with Vic and Vicki Ross. In N.B. I am attending the University of New Brunswick and intend to return to my studies after completing this program.

The reason I joined CWY was my interest in international development, and I'm finding that I'm learning more than I bargained for. Not only am I learning a lot about Pakistan but this is an excellent way to learn about Canada too. Thanks to the people of Haliburton for giving us this opportunity. I'm really enjoying my stay here.

Sumaira Shakeel

Hi! I am Sumaira Shakeel. I am a student of architecture at the University of Engineering and Technology Lahore, so I am going to be an architect after I complete my studies. I turned 19 on the 27th of August.

My home town is Fairalabad, which is third biggest city in Pakistan. It is an industrial city with a number of textile mills. I belong to a family of six. Among two brothers and two sisters, I am the third one. My father is basically a textile engineer but both my parents are politicians too. My mother also works for ILO (U.N.)

I came to know about this C.W.Y. programme from a newspaper. I am selected on the basis of good academic record, debates and cycling.

Nowadays I am staying with Vic and Vicki Ross with my counterpart Bridgette Dion. We all are getting along well and I hope that it remains the same. I am so far enjoying this programme and I like Haliburton. I think it's a beautiful place and people are also very nice to us.

Disabled persons make up 14 per cent of the Canadian population and number 3.5 million. The Progressive Conservative government has set itself the priority of improving their living conditions.

Increased Financial Assistance.

A permanent Status of Disabled Persons Secretariat was established in the Department of Secretary of State to co-ordinate federal efforts. Funding for the Disabled Persons Participation Program has been increased to $16 million for a five-year period, an amount five times greater than that allocated by the previous government.

Permanent Standing Committee on the Disabled. This government has created a permanent Parliamentary Standing Committee on the Disabled.

Walter Dinsdale Centre Opened.

This information centre for disabled persons opened in Calgary in April 1986.

The centre, the only one of its kind, provides disabled persons and interested organizations with the most complete information on the various types of disabilities and the services available for them.

$1 Million Given To Man In Motion Tour

The government presented Rick Hansen with a cheque for $1 million to aid spinal cord research.

Improved Access To Federal Buildings.

A program of accessibility improvements to federal government buildings open to the public was introduced following consultations with the Advisory Committee on the Employment of the Disabled, Public Service unions, and the Canadian Human Rights Commission.

Better Housing For Disabled Persons.

A new Residential Rehabilitation Assistance program for disabled persons was announced in 1986, with a federal budget of $4.8 million. In addition, 700 new units accessible to disabled persons were created under the Social Housing Program in 1986. Another special program has created 496 new units for disabled adults and children.

Economic Incentives.

The definition of disability for income tax purposes was broadened in the May 1985 budget. In addition to covering the blind and those confined to bed and wheelchairs, it now covers a further 120,000 persons, including the deaf and those with mental and psychiatric disabilities. The February 1986 budget announced an increase in the disability deduction for income tax purposes from $2,610 to $2,860 a year.

The flat rate for disability benefits payable under the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) was increased effective January 1, 1987, from $94.79 to $242.95 monthly.

Re. Senior Housing -- Staanworth yes - Kinmount
no. First of all I am not criticising Kinmount, I do not know what procedure they have followed, but I would like you to know a little about Staanzworth.

"Staanworth Court" as it is known, was opened in October 1984 but a lot of work was done before that,
by a group of volunteers.
These men now known as the Board of Directors of Staanworth Non-Profit Housing Corporation, are business men and some are members of the Council of the Townships involved.

(These are Anson, Hindon and Minden, also Lutter-worth, and Stanhope.) The men worked many hours from 1979 yes 1979 until the present project opened in 1984, when this happened they did not stop there, they immediately saw that this would not be enough as the waiting list was starting to get longer as each month went by. The work started again to get another project under way, and it has been rewarded by the letter received just over a week ago giving initial approval for a further building of units in Minden. These men give freely of their time and knowledge on an ongoing basis to keep the Seniors in adequate housing and are looking ahead to housing as many as possible in the future. The work done by the Townships and the volunteer workers is tremendous but it does take a long long time, also the help of the Government Officials and the Ministry of Housing is to be commended. In closing I would like to quote the closing comment of the initial approval letter, "Your commitment to the provision of social housing in Ontario is much appreciated and we wish you success in the development of your project". Thanking you for your time, I remain,

Corinne Arsenault, Minden.

as part of the government's overall reform of the CPP.
Eligibility rules will also be eased, allowing workers who become disabled to collect benefits if they have contributed to the CPP in two of the last three years.
Imported items especially designed for guide dogs for the blind will no longer be subject to duty.

Expanded Services.

Improved assistance has been given to those Canadians who need help in understanding the Income Tax Act and in completing their tax returns. Last year, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind distributed copies of a master tape recording of the Tax Guide to the blind.

Veterans' Pensions.

The married rate of disability pension will continue to be paid for a full year after the death of the veteran.
Pension increases will now reflect parity with a composite wage. Seriously disabled former prisoners of war (POWs) will be able to receive payment of POW compensation regardless of their disability pension assessment.

Pension applications are now being processed in half the time previously taken, and the percentage of favourable decisions has doubled.

Employment.

Employment equity legislation has been passed to ensure that Crown corporations, federally-regulated businesses, and private companies contracting with the government give women, disabled persons, native people and visible minorities better job opportunities.

The Access Program for Disabled People, operated as part of the Treasury Board's Affirmative Action Program, was expanded in 1986 to include not only persons with physical disabilities, but also those with mental, psychiatric and training disabilities.

Great interest in hydro dam

Close to 50 parties have shown an interest in harnessing the flow of water over Elliot Falls by developing a small hydro generating station at the site. The Ministry of Natural Resources is planning to lease the facilities for a regenerating station at Elliot Falls on the Gull River near Cobocok. And since the notice was published about one month ago, a great deal of interest has been shown in the location, says Dennis Simmons from the Minden MNR.

About a year ago, the ministry received several requests from engineering firms that were interested in developing a hydro plant at the falls. With its present water flow, Elliot falls is capable of generating from 800 to 1000 Kilowatts of electricity, says Simmons.

Simmons says the ministry is trying to encourage private developers to make use of such sites which are capable of generating electricity. "It helps stimulate the economy as well as to get away from nuclear power to some extent," he says.

To ensure that the project will be in the public's interest, the ministry has prepared a draft water power lease agreement, which was forwarded to Parks Canada for its approval about one week ago. Simmons says the ministry is awaiting the return of this draft agreement before sending it off to the interested parties.

The lease agreement is being designed to ensure that a hydro project will not interfere with the present recreation facilities on the waterway.

Any future development must also be compatible with the present functions of the Trent Severn Waterway System. Simmons says a generating station will have to work with the present water flow. He said the project will not be allowed to alter the water levels in Moore Lake.

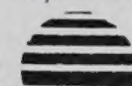

A Parks Canada worker removes a form from the Elliot Falls dam on the Gull River north of Norland. The dam could be the site of a small hydro generating station in the near future.

Abortion bill ready

Editor:

If returned to power, the Liberal party has in the planning stage, a motion that will go before the legislature. It is the Marion Powell report advocating that abortion clinics be established in all major centres across Ontario; that full OHIP funding be made available; that travelling costs where applicable be reimbursed to the client. Needless to say, Dr. Powell has long been an avid supporter of Dr. Morgenthau's abortuaries. Other revamping measures to upstream the abortion service include the adding of family doctors to gynecologists/obstetricians already permitted to perform abortions. It would appear that one and all privileged to have a medical degree, can be given the opportunity to take advantage of a growing industry.

I despair. How will I answer my eight year olds question, "What is that place for?" - as we walk past the Lindsay - Peterborough - Haliburton Abortion Centre. I am angry that every three months or so our OHIP premiums will be used to finance such a heinous crime! It is unfair and intolerable to see the unborn baby scapegoated in order that a promiscuous, permissive and over exposed to sex culture may flourish.

Mr. Peterson and his high handed approach to this issue will not get our X on the ballot. I don't think this legislation represents the consensus of Ontarians. This isn't even part of their platform and I suspect that they are gambling on a majority return in order that they may then foist this piece of questionable legislature upon us.

We ask that our leaders and especially our legislators once again consider the value and dignity of all life, and that together with specialists in the caring-services, we may find solutions that are based on responsibility, compassion for both mother and baby, and will reflect the traditional values that have made Ontario a truly great province.

Small business is ignored in survey

Editor:

Probably the most important sector of our economy is that of small business. According to Statistics from Stats-Canada as given in the business section of the Toronto Sun in May 1987, small businesses were responsible for creating 96 per cent of the new full-time jobs in Canada over the six-year period of 1978 - 1984. Ontario small businesses alone accounted for 77 per cent of the nation's new jobs! In an area such as ours, which has little in the way of big business or big government, small business plays an even greater role as they are responsible for most jobs, new or otherwise. Such a contributor to the economy of a community deserves, at the very least, to have its concerns listened to.

In March of 1987, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB) sent a survey to Ontario MPP's to obtain their views on issues concerning the small business sector in Ontario. A copy of the survey was sent to each MPP's Riding office in addition to his or her Queen's Park office. It was indicated on the survey that failure to respond by April 1 of this year would be interpreted as disinterest in the issues affecting the independent business sector. Each MPP's office was telephoned to inquire as to whether a response could be expected and an additional copy of the questionnaire was hand-delivered to any office that claimed to have not received it. Finally, the deadline was extended by two weeks to allow for slow mail delivery.

The results of the survey were astonishing in light of the above statistics. Of 50 Progressive Conservatives polled, 30 returned the survey. The New Democrats had a poor showing with two out of 25 responding. Of the 51 Liberal Government members only one bothered to return the survey. Unfortunately for the people of Victoria - Haliburton, this lone Liberal was not our own MPP and Minister of Tourism, Johan Eakins. I find this appalling in view of the fact that the vast majority of tourist operations in this province are privately owned and operated small businesses.

I hope that anyone out there who owes their job to small business will consider the minister's lack of concern for their source of income on election day.

The following is a list of Bowling Leagues and the date on which they start:

Monday Night League September 14
Tuesday Afternoon League September 15
Tuesday Night League September 15
Wednesday Afternoon League September 9
Men's Commercial League September 9
Thursday Night Vankoughnet September 10

Consequently as not all the league secretaries were present at our O.B.C. meeting, if your league date is not posted here, then please contact your league secretary/president/or treasurer for further information.

If you have moved to the area recently, or you want a night out with family or friends, then phone Carnarvon Lanes and ask about which league would be suitable for you. Remember to tell him about your age, gender and how many are in your group that want to join.

Many thanks and see you on the lanes.

Others benefit from union work

I would also like to state that every time the unions gain a concession that the non-union workers and others who look down their noses and complain that the unions are ruining the economy also get a lift because the sweatshops (and there are still lots in this country) have to give a little more to keep their underpaid staff from leaving.

Unions were also instrumental in having the Workmen's Compensation Board and the Industrial Accident Prevention Association set up.

Council has bad attitude

Editor:

While the last four council briefs has annoyed us with the constant negative attitudes of some council members, the August 29th report has forced this letter.

It is not upsetting enough that the complaints of noise and vandalism of citizens received such poor response at council but now that the new anti-noise by-law may finally be dealt with (Exactly how long does it take at the solicitor's), we now must hear more negative attitudes re: No way at present to enforce this law.

Surely this should have been thought out before now.

Further, when Mr. Campbell of The Haliburton County Development Corporation gave his report and made his suggestion for a commercial development in Minden, he received an immediate negative response from our Reeve. Surely past experiences do not have to be repeated and a simple stroll down Main Street should show the Reeve the great need!

Why cannot further study be done? Why does this current council make it so difficult for business in this area?

Mary Lynn Hayes,
Minden House,
Minden, Ont.

Snowdon Council briefs

Snowdon Township council dealt with the following matters at meetings held on August 10th and August 24th.

The applications by adjacent property owners in respect of the purchase of the original shore road allowance along the shore of Canning Lake in front of Lot 14, Concession 14, designated as Parts 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28, Plan 19R-3630 were approved, the application in respect of the purchase of Part 34, Plan 19R-3630 was not approved.

Council approved the applications of Messrs. Baker, Nesbitt, Davies and Henderson (Lot 15, Concession 13) for the dredging of the river in front of their properties provided that the work complied with the Ministry of Natural Resources specifications.

Land Severance application no. H212/87 was approved, application no. H203/87 was approved subject to the rezoning of the low area as determined by the Ministry of Natural Resources to an Environmental Protection Zone.

Road Voucher no. 7 in the amount of $19,898.99 for the month of July was approved. The Road Superintendent will attend the Ontario Good Roads Association Explosives Training Program to be held in Bancroft from September 21 to 24, the registration fee and out-of-pocket expenses will be borne by the township.

In accordance with The Public Transportation and Highways Improvement Act, a supplementary allocation of subsidy monies in the amount of $4,500.00 will be requested from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for the current year for the purchase of a brush cutter/mower.

The Reeve and Clerk were authorized to sign the agreement with the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce relating to banking services for the township for the period July 1, 1987 to June 30, 1988.

Council concurred with the resolution passed by the Township of Beckwith requesting the Provincial Government to discontinue the Sales Tax applied to equipment and supplies directly used in fire protection and control and auto extraction.

The General Accounts in the amount of $9,614.78 for the month of July were approved.

The letter of resignation from Mr. E. Roylance from his duties of Chief Building Official, By-law Enforcement Officer and Canine Control Officer effective July 31, 1987 was accepted.

By-law 13/87 being a by-law to close, stop up and convey part of the original shore road allowance along the shore of Canning Lake in front of Part Lot 14, Concession 14, designated as Parts 29, 30, 31 and 32 on Plan 19R-3630 was given three readings, passed, signed and the Corporate Seal affixed.

The next regular meeting of Council will be held on September 14, 1987 at 7:30 p.m.

School issue hotly debated

but "the board's right to make decisions must be maintained."

Eakins noted that the trustees who form the board have been elected by the residents to make these decisions. "Not all the elected trustees who represent these areas are of the same voice," he added.

Eakins implied that if voters do not agree with what the board is planning, they do not have to re-elect the trustees in the next municipal election. He also noted that if they do not agree with the province's stand on the issue, they have the right to appeal through the Ombudsman.

Voters betrayed

Ward disagreed. He said education is a provincial matter. "The buck stops with the provincial government."

In this case, Ward said the local electoral process has betrayed the voters. He said a number of trustees were elected because of their support for maintaining the five schools ... "just like Eakins in '85." However a few weeks after the municipal election, those trustees changed their tune and supported the school closings.

Ward said the province has to get involved for three reasons. Firstly because of the broken promises, secondly because guidelines were ignored by the board in conducting closed meetings, and thirdly because the education act encourages the closure of small schools through its capital funding structure.

"Perhaps the Act is wrong and it should be changed," said Ward. If it encourages the closure of small schools it needs to be amended, he said.

NDP candidate Ivan Moore agreed with Eakins on this issue. He said the school board will have to decide on this problem before the provincial government should get involved.

FCP candidate Diane Roblin-Lee said she is shocked by the way this matter has been handled by the board. She said she is appalled at how the laws had been contravened, also noting that this had been a key point in the municipal elections. She said this is an example of "bureaucracy running roughshod over the wants and needs of the people."

Lee suggested that the provincial government should request that a new study be conducted, and if the board's decision stands, it should have to re-apply for funding.

More than 150 people were on hand during The Times' all candidate meeting at the Minden Recreation Centre on Thursday night. The meeting provided an opportunity for the four Victoria - Haliburton candidates to address the issues in this provincial election campaign.

Minden OPP briefs

Between August 24 and 30 personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: 5 motor vehicle accidents, no injuries; general occurrences - 76 (6 break and enters).

Compared to the previous weeks of summer, last week was relatively quiet throughout the County.

Sentenced

Robert Thomas Lambe, age 34, of Harburn Twp., was sentenced in Lindsay Provincial Court to nine months in jail. The term arose from an occurrence on Kawagama Lake in Sherborne Twp. on February 8, 1986 which resulted in the death of Gordon Zavitz, age 46, of the Fonthill area.

Lambe was convicted of dangerous operation of a motor vehicle causing death. His snowmobile struck and killed Zavitz as the man stood beside his snowmobile on the lake. It is estimated Lambe's machine was travelling at 100 km/h at the time.

In addition to the jail term, Lambe's drivers licence was suspended for one year.

Break and enters

A number of public buildings were entered early August 25 and safes were attacked with cutting torches. Tools were stolen from the MTC shed on Hwy. 35 and from the Lutterworth Twp. garage. These tools - cutting torches, hammers etc. - were then used to gain entry into the Twp. offices at Lutterworth and Snowden and into their vaults. A total of $400 was stolen. The damage caused to the Twp. properties far exceeded this amount. PC Brad Burkholder investigated and is being assisted by OPP staff from Peterborough District Headquarters.

Damage

On Wednesday, August 26 during the early evening a group of youths were seen congregated in Head Lake Park in Haliburton. There was indications that they were consuming alcohol and police were summoned. No alcohol was located but in the region 2 mercury lights were discovered to have been broken at the bandshell. Police were unable to uncover who had caused the damage. The lights were valued at $90.00.

High school enrolment is up

Enrolment at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School has grown more than had been anticipated.

Principal Andrew Hemphill said that, by the end of last week, 561 students had enrolled. He expected that another 51 students would be enrolling by the time school opens, bringing the total up to 612.

Hemphill said that based on past growth trends, he had expected enrolment to be around 595. Included in this year's enrolment figures are 43 new registrations, which is considerably more than in previous years.

Health care funds to be available

by Doreen Hawman

There is good news from the Ministry of Health, an assistive device program will enable individuals requiring wheelchairs, genito-urinary and ostomy drainage supplies to receive 75% funding.

The program covers manual and powered wheelchairs or alternatives such as buggies and scooter-types.

All ostomy supplies and catheters are also funded.

Anyone 21 years of age and younger will receive 75% funding for body braces, splints, seating inserts, artificial limbs, artificial eyes, breast prostheses, respiratory supplies, communication aids, also some visual aids are covered. The Ministry is expecting to be able to announce the funding for hearing aids sometime during 1988.

Board challenged to delay school closings known. If they don't vote for me then they are supportive of the idea of two schools.

Mrs. Campbell won the election 458 votes to 190 votes against an opposition who had publicly stated support for closure of the five schools.

Eight days after the Nov. 12th, 1985 election Noni Campbell stated in the press "It (the northern schools issue) may have had a bearing (on the election results), but people realize there are going to be changes whether you say you are for or against the concept (of new schools). We must provide cold, hard facts without the emotionalism if people are going to accept a consolidated school."

What happened during those eight days between the election and the above press statement? What could have induced Mrs. Campbell to change her mind which resulted in a change of her public position?

I am capable of understanding that those who voted for Mrs. Campbell because of her stand on the northern schools issue were lead down the garden path!

Statement Number Two "The S.O.S. is well organized, they knew how to use the press. They are definitely a minority pressure group. They don't represent 20% of the population. As a member of the board, they're just one of the things you have to deal with."

A poll conducted by the North Kawartha Times resulted in the following 961 ballots returned, 909 in favour of retaining the five northern schools, 36 in favour of closure, 16 spoiled.

Four municipal township councils are financing a lawyer to fight the board of education over the closures.

22 to 3, was the vote at Victoria County Council in support of conducting a study into the impact of closure on the five communities.

Individual councils and certainly County Council would not become involved in the issue if they were not certain they had the majority of the people supporting their decisions.

Mrs. Campbell does not wish to understand the desires and aspirations of the people to have their children receive quality education in their community schools. She has not understood those feelings and concerns since the day she was elected.

Both Mrs. Campbell and the Ministry of Education have stated that if the people are dissatisfied with the decision and the process followed (or not followed) they should take the board to court.

"They (S.O.S.) can claim whatever they want (regarding contraventions of the act)" says Campbell. "We didn't discuss anything that we shouldn't have. It's funny how they'll make all those claims, but they won't take you to court over them. On March 24, 1987, Dr. Shapiro, Deputy Minister of Education in a letter to the townships' lawyer admitted that the Victoria County School Board had contravened the education act."

It is a sad day in a democratic society when the elected officials taunt the public with a solution that is financially impossible for most to even consider.

Surely, everyone, including the board, is sick to death of this issue. Why will the board not reverse its decision and get on with the job of building new schools in the southern part of the county where they are desperately needed?

If Mrs. Campbell is so convinced that the board's decision for closure represents the majority of the electorate, then we challenge her and the Board to put a hold on the process and put it to the people during the next election!!!

New grading system at HHSS

Day to day attendance at school will become more important to students at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School this year with the adoption of a new evaluation procedure at the school.

In keeping with the Ministry of Education's OSIS document, the school is placing more weight on term work and less on examinations.

In the past, both exams and term work carried the same weighting, with 50 per cent of a student's mark based on term work and 50 per cent on exam results. This year, however, the maximum worth of exams has been dropped to from 30 to 40 per cent of the total mark, depending on the course, the grade level and the level of study.

HHSS principal Andrew Hemphill says the new structure will renew the stress on attendance. "Day to day work formulates greater marks," said Hemphill. "If they don't appear, they can't get graded for what they don't perform."

Hemphill says the new grading system parallels what happens in the business world, and that is what school is preparing the students for. He said if a person does not go to work he does not get paid. Similarly, if a student does not attend class, he does not earn the marks.

For the vast majority of students, Hemphill says the new structure will mean little change. However, he says there are a few students who coast through the year and pull off miraculous results in examinations to get their credits. He says there are very few students who are able to do this, though.

Other than the weighting, students face few other changes when they return to school. Most courses will continue to have two sets of examinations, and exemption from June exams may still be earned by students with a 66 per cent average on the two term marks.

The school's discipline code, while under review, will continue to enforce the same standards of conduct as last year. The discipline code, which was drafted by teachers and one trustee, with input from students and parents, is required to maintain certain standards of behaviour in school. It covers all areas from dress to attendance, as well as consequences for not following the codes.

All students will be made aware of both the discipline code and the revised grading system at the start of the year. Hemphill said there will be assemblies, where this will be addressed. It will also be addressed in each class, he said. Copies of the discipline code will be distributed to each student.

Maximum examination per cent.

GRADE	ADVANCED	GENERAL	BASIC
13 (O.A.C.)	40% (or as per document)	X X X	X X X
12	40%	30%	30%
11	40%	30%	30%
10	30%	30%	20%
9	30%	30%	no exam

The figures shown above are maximum percentages, actual percentages will vary depending on the course.

Tours start Agri-food week

Plans for Victoria County's participation in Agri-Food Week are well underway, according to Millie Reeds, chairperson of the committee in charge of the seven day event.

Agri-Food Week, which runs from October 5 to October 11 (Thanksgiving), is aimed at informing the public about Ontario agriculture. Locally, the week is sponsored by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Here in Lindsay, Agri-Food Week will begin by a tour to area farms for selected guests with a reception following. Some other activities being planned include a poster contest for all Grade 4 and 5 classes throughout the county, and displays at the Lindsay Square Mall on October 9 and 10. Groups participating at the mall include the Sheep and Pork Producers, the Milk Committee, the Cattlemen's Association, Beekeepers, Soil and Crop Associations, the Federation of Agriculture, Post Vision, and Junior Farms. There will be free draws, free recipes, nutrition information, cooking demonstrations and much more. It is a wonderful opportunity to meet the people who grow the food we eat.

Agri-Food Week is under the direction of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. It was first started in 1982 as a way to bring farmers and city residents closer together by bridging the "education gap" between the two.

"When the public learns about farming, they become aware of the unique problems Ontario's farmers face," Mrs. Reeds chairperson of the local, Agri-Food Committee said. "This awareness brings urban and rural residents closer together and makes society the stronger for it."

Small town hosts big fair

In the Ministry of Tourism's Fall Events booklet, the Kinmount Fair is listed in small lettering, indicating it is one of the smaller fairs in the province. However, judging by the masses of people packed into the huge Kinmount fairground, the lineups of cars along the streets, and the wide array of exhibits, events and activities, the ministry's booklet needs some updating.

By 11 a.m. Saturday morning, the fairgrounds were filled with people. Yet there was still a steady stream of cars passing through the gates as people flocked to Kinmount to enjoy the biggest fair in the area.

By noon there were literally thousands of people spread out through the grounds. And, with the sun shining and balmy temperatures the weather could not have been better.

Outside the fairgrounds, on Highway 121, cars were backed up for a mile in either direction as traffic was slowed to a crawl through the bustling downtown area. While hundreds were being seated in the grandstand, inside the fairground waiting for the parade, thousands more lined the streets. People were perched on cars, rock cuts and some even ventured to climb up onto the bridge railing to get a better view of the spectacular parade.

And, when the parade passed by with its colourful floats, marching bands, horses and wagons, the crowds of people who had been lining the streets, joined in the marching following to the fairground, adding to the numbers already there.

Gord McArthur, who has been coming to the Kinmount Fair for close to 20 years, said Saturday's crowd was one of the best he has ever seen. Much of the fair's appeal is that it has just about something for everyone.

The fairground is divided into several areas, each with a specific theme or purpose. In one corner, the stables housed the livestock which were to be entered in the various competitions. Next to that area were the booths, where vendors displayed their wares, ranging from new cars to old rubber boots.

Centrally located on the grounds were the carnival rides and games. While these are always a popular part of the fair, it was easy to see that some preferred the older ways. Just next to the gaudy carnival displays, hundreds gathered to view the antique lumbering machinery in action.

For Mr. McArthur, who owns two steam powered engines, this is the highlight of the fair. With steam billowing out the tops of the engines, and huge belts flailing as they spin the saw blades, it was like taking a step back in time.

After owning and operating these steam powered mills for some 70 years, McArthur is an old hand at it. He says his father bought his first steam engine in 1918, and a few years later McArthur owned two of his own. "I sometimes didn't know who they belonged to, me, the bank or the neighbours," he said. But, he has always kept them in top working order.

Although McArthur did not have his engines on display at this year's fair, he was working hard, helping to keep his brother's engine in production throughout the weekend.

After 20 years of being a part of the Kinmount Fall Fair, Gord McArthur knows what he's talking about when he says, "It's the biggest fair in the area. I wouldn't miss it."

The steam engines were a popular attraction at the fair.

The petting farm is no place for ice cream.

WARD ON THE ISSUES

Free Trade

"The Progressive Conservative Party has confidence that Ontario can very successfully compete in a fair, freer trade environment. Trade has brought prosperity in the past and increased trade will continue to stimulate economic growth in the future."

Automobile Insurance

"I cannot and do not believe that automobile insurance operated by a government bureaucracy is more efficient or less expensive than private enterprise. The private insurance brokers and agents of Ontario have provided many years of excellent service to the people of Ontario and I want this to continue. I expect that government insurance would be about as efficient as the post office."

School Closings

"The northern schools question is an issue in this campaign. I have stood shoulder to shoulder with the enraged parents of northern Victoria County who want to retain their community schools. The decision to close them was wrong. I will work my hardest to reverse it."

Bilingualism

"I believe that a policy of official bilingualism for Ontario would be very expensive and is completely unnecessary. The Progressive Conservative Party will not introduce official bilingualism in Ontario."

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, foward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. have fun!

Q: What starts with E and ends with F and has one letter in it?

A: An envelope.

Q: What do you get if you cross a porcupine with a giraffe?

A: A ten foot toothbrush.

Q: Why does a monkey scratch himself?

A: He's the only one who knows where the itch is.

Q: Why does an ostrich have such a long neck?

A: Because its head is so far from its body.

Q: What did the dog say when the cat scratched him?

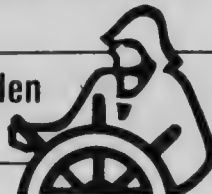

A: Nothing. a dog can't talk.

All good wishes to Michael Rowden who had an accident.

Congratulations to Sandy Stewart who will celebrate his 90th birthday September 12th.

A welcome goes to Mrs. Joe Dollo Jr., who will be working at the Sears Order Office.

We had Sandra Moth, Logan and Daniel and Muriel Ewing all of Toronto visiting us over last weekend.

At the Tuesday luncheon-euchres at the Wagon Wheel on September 1st, winners were: Freda Harrison, Betty Toy, and Rheta Brown for lone hands and also door prize. Call 286-2733 or 286-2872 for reservations for next games on September 15th.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Al Stott was his sister Katherine Parsons from Montreal.

Royal Canadian Legion no. 356 from Sutton came to South Lake Trailer Park and paraded around the park twice. They had corn, hotdogs and refreshments for themselves and others who wanted to join in. The highlight of the parade was when they said "Eyes Left and Hi Mom" to Mary Miller! Glad to see her up and about. They had a raffle for two clocks, winners being no. 181 for Maple Leaf Clock drawn by Mary for Evelyn and Clark Gable and the second no. 218 drawn by Edith D'Angelis and was her husband's ticket and that clock will be in their store. All also enjoyed a hayride.

Over 30 people from the Shuffleboard group enjoyed fun games and a pot luck dinner following their meeting at the home of May and Don Sinclair on August 28th. This was their final meeting for the year but some shufflers will be going to the courts on nice days for some time yet.

Sheila Graham was the one to win the jackpot at Kinmount Legion Bingo on August 28, taking home $200. Congrats to her.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Della Archer, Harry Burden and William Turner whose funerals were last week.

Two recent weddings with congratulations to Sherry and Glen Worrell and Patricia Porter and Timothy Corby.

Recent anniversaries are those of Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks on September 8 and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stevens on September 10.

Jordan Campbell has been visiting with grandparents Laureen and Eldon McCracken.

Race results from South Lake Trailer Park by Judy Seace and Peggy Brown are 2 - 3 years, Crystal Lee Seace and James Davis; 4 - 5 years Sandy Seace; 6 - 7 years Jennifer Davis; 8 - 10 years (girls) Elaine Seace; 8 - 10 (boys) Chris Pennington; 11 - 16 years (girls) Jodi and Carrie Taylor; 11 - 16 (boys) Jason Thompson and Robert Smith. Honour top 10 walkers

by K. Hodgson-McMahon

The "Step Out and Count" walking program has held its grand finale picnic lunch. The Wilberforce area has had 15 walkers keeping track of where they have walked since May, 1987. In Haliburton village, 13 participants met once a week to tally their miles and participate in a local walk.

These two groups came together at the Haliburton County Home Support Services Drop-In Centre for a celebration of the end of the Walk Program and recognition of the top ten "stepper-outers", on Thursday, August 20, 1987.

A barbecue luncheon of hamburgers, hot dogs, cake and ice cream was followed by a sharing of events that happened when participating in the program. Some great stories were told! Like seeing a deer cross the path while out strolling, some members went on vacation but did not leave their walk habit at home and counted their steps in such picturesque locations as Banff and Prince Edward Island. A poem was composed by a participant about this program and was received with great enthusiasm.

The top ten finalists each received a hat donated by Frances and Tim Elstone of Lakeview Lodge. The top seven walkers each received a mug. Two of the mugs read "You're No. 1" and one was given to the finalist from each area who walked the farthest.

The top ten walkers were as follows: Audrey Snider, 309.0 miles, Wilberforce; Dave Snider, 306.85 miles, Wilberforce; Ev Stata, 220.26 miles, Haliburton; Marion Tallman, 162.5 miles, Wilberforce; Jack MacDonald, 152.0 miles, Haliburton; Ethel MacDonald, 128.5 miles, Haliburton; Jim Ross, 128.5 miles, Haliburton; Gerald Shackleton, 77.5 miles, Wilberforce; Marlene Main, 76.0 miles, Wilberforce; Bessie Shackleton, 75.5 miles, Wilberforce.

The program was very successful in terms of ongoing dedication to this form of keeping fit all the participants felt they would like to keep this new habit going.

A special thank you goes to Dortha de la Harpe who convened the Wilberforce group. Thank you to all who came out and participated in this endeavour and made the program successful. Looking forward to seeing you "Stepping Out and Counting" next year and hopefully other areas of the County will get in on the act.

The Rotary Club of Minden

Wants Volunteers to Become Part of a Project to Foster Goodwill and Understanding With Other Peoples.

Rotary District 701 will send a team of four ladies, ages 25 to 35, and a Rotarian and his wife to London, England to meet with their counterparts for discussion and examination of conditions in England. The program is five weeks' duration, beginning on March 5, 1988. There is no cost to the team members.

Members of the group are carefully selected to ensure that they are worthy representatives of our culture, will benefit from the experience, and will contribute as members of a team.

All applicants must be presently engaged in business or a profession with at least two years' experience in her present occupation, must be a Canadian citizen, and employed or reside in Rotary District 701.

A team member may not be a Rotarian, the dependent of a Rotarian or the relative of a Rotarian by blood or marriage. Only females are invited to apply.

Interested candidates please contact: Don Hall 286-1270 or 1764 or Peter Bennett 286-2919.

CARD OF THANKS

To Whom It May Concern: I would like to thank that good Samaritan gentleman, who aided me when I was lost on "Big Bob Lake" when he towed me and my row boat back to Beaver Bay Cottages on Monday, August 31 about 7 p.m. Thanks a million. Maurice Healey, Pembroke, Ont. 9A

To say thank you is hardly enough to all those who helped our children on Saturday, August 22. To Stephen Orlitzkey and Bernice Maione who pulled them from the burning vehicle and Angelo Sitten for trying to put the fire out, risking their own lives to save them, our love and everlasting gratitude; and Dolly Shermeta for her quick response in calling emergency services; the ambulance services of Haliburton and Minden for their kind concern and treatment while in their care, Minden OPP officers Sachs and Hicks, Minden Fire Fighters, Minden Collision, Minden hospital nursing staff and Dr. Watt for their quick assessment and treatment; St. Joseph's emergency doctors and nursing staff, 4DE nurses and Dr. L. Legault, their care was 100%; for all the phone calls, flowers, fruit, cards and prayers for Leanna and Gary. Special thanks to Mary and Jack Lawr for being there and to Ray

Poyner for all his help and their many friends. Mr. & Mrs. Donald Barker, Mr. & Mrs. Dennis Chapman, Leanna & Gary

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON: In loving memory of Ellwood Gordon who passed away suddenly September 12, 1985.

As time moves on,
Two years have passed
Since that great sorrow fell.
What it meant to lose you
No one can ever tell.
You who have a dad,
Treat him with loving care.
Cause you never know the heart ache
Till you see his empty chair.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Lynda, Bill and Preston and Ruby Anne.

JOHNSTON: In loving memory of a husband and father who passed away suddenly September 12, 1985.

He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown,
But left us a lot of memories.
We are proud to own.
You are not forgotten, or will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will always remember thee.

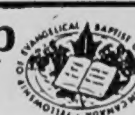

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife Ruby and family.
